U. S. REGULATION OF MEATPACKERS VOTED BY SENATE

With Two Amendments, Kenyon-Kendrick Bill to Control Meat Industry Is Passed.

SMALL STOCK-RAISERS NOT TO BE AFFECTED

Senator Harris Writes in Support of Measure, Alleging Price Combine of "Big Five."

Washington, January 24.—By a margin of thirteen votes the senate late today passed the long fought bill for federal regulation of the meat packers and other agencies of the live stock industry. The vote was 46 to 33 and the legislation, the center of bitter controversy for a decade, now goes to the house with its supporters hopeful of final action during the present session of congress. A special rule to expedite house action is to be sought.

Partisan division in the senate was lacking, but most democrats supported the bill while a majority of the republicans opposed it. The party lineup was 18 republicans and 28 democrats for passage, with 23 republicans and 10 democrats against.

Fundamentals Retained.
All fundamental features of the legislation as presented by the committee as a substitute for the original Kenyon-Kendrick bill were retained by the senate. The bill would create a federal live stock commission of three members appointed by the president to have jurisdiction over the live stock industry. This commission would have power to issue orders, collect and disseminate information, have access to packers' books and have general supervision over packers, stockyards, commission men and similar agencies. Review of the live stock commission's orders would be provided by the bill which also prescribes rules for conduct of the packing business and stipulations against monopoly, unfair trade practices, engaging in unrelated industries and other similar acts.

Voluntary licensing of packers also is provided, an attempt by Senator Penrose, democrat, Ohio, to eliminate this feature having been defeated today, 42 to 34.

Only two important amendments were adopted by the senate before passing the bill. One, by Senator Wadsworth, republican, New York, would include horses, mules and goats, with the operations of the bill, although horse and mule markets would be excluded from the proposed federal supervision.

Exempt Stock Growers.
Another amendment by Senator Pittman, democrat, Nevada, would exempt all persons whose chief business is the stock growing or production of agricultural products from the bill's provisions. The author declared that the legislation should not extend to small stock-growers who operated their own feeding yards.

Other amendments adopted included one by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, providing that all proceedings of the live stock commission should be open to the public and an amendment by Senator Penrose, democrat, Ohio, declaring that upon enactment of the bill, all supervision of the federal trade commission over the live stock industry should be terminated and transferred to the live stock commission. The bill succeeded in its purpose, notwithstanding virtually all other relations proposed and defeated a motion to recommit the bill to the committee.

Daughter's Suicide Fails to Disturb Father's Serenity

With Meditative Calm, Divorced Parent Grants Unhappy Girl's Last Request.

BY JAMES L. KILGALLAN, United News Staff Correspondent.
Chicago, January 24.—Sigmund J. Rice, a broker, saw his 22-year-old daughter, Hazel, today for the first time since his divorce a year ago. She lay on a marble slab in a north side undertaking parlor. Hazel had had a telephone conversation with her sweetheart, Louis J. Jacques, son of John R. Jacques, millionaire sugar merchant. Then she drank acid and died.

The broker, Rice, well-groomed and matter-of-fact, stood aloof from the throng at the coroner's inquest, a perfunctory proceeding. The broker's former wife, Mrs. Betty Rice, a little woman in a dark blue velvet suit, heavily veiled, sat over in a dark corner, a handkerchief to her eyes.

The sensation seekers had filed out. Only relatives remained. "When did you last see your daughter?" Mrs. Rice was asked. "Christmas day; she had Christmas dinner with me. She seemed happy, though things were not like they used to be."

"Hazel was a high-spirited girl, and hadn't been living at home since the divorce. The alimony I receive wasn't enough for us to 'keep up' as in former days. So my girl got away from me, too. Oh, if father hadn't left."

The coroner glared sympathetically at the mother who had always known her daughter as "the sunshine girl," as he began stacking a little pile of letters—Hazel's love letters, and the last letter of all, the one addressed "To All Whom I Love," and which read: "I am just tired of living, and feel that I will be forgiven. If this is contrary to the law of God, I have just one request. I don't want a funeral. No flowers. Just take me to an undertaking establishment, and please, please, have my body cremated."

"I have no money, but as my father never gave me any happiness in life, perhaps he will bear the expense and grant my last request. That much he can do in death."

"I hold no malice. I only love every one and say good-bye."

"Conscience Is Clear."
The broker removed a cigar from his vest pocket. He bit off the end and lit it. He leaned meditatively out of the window. He had come to grant his daughter's dying request—that he arrange the funeral as she wanted it.

"Do you think things would have been different if Hazel would be alive today if there had been no divorce?" he was asked. "That is hard to say. I don't know. I feel in any way responsible for what has happened."

"Not in the least. I think there must have been something decidedly wrong with Hazel's mental viewpoint to do such an act. I haven't lived with the family for several years, and I lost touch with her. I hadn't seen Hazel in a year—not since the divorce. I can not hold myself in any way accountable. My conscience is clear."

He walked away.

FEDERAL PRISONER WHO MADE ESCAPE JAILED IN DECATUR

Policeman Haxeriggs, of the Decatur police force, is 50 years off today as the result of his watchfulness yesterday morning, which resulted in the capture and return to the federal prison of Berry McMaynard, held for distilling. McMaynard, who was on the honor farm, got away late Sunday night and was arrested by the officer about 2 o'clock the next morning.

GERMAN FAILURE TO DISARM, TOPIC OF HIGH COUNCIL

Representatives of Allied Powers Open Important Conference on Treaty Enforcement.

AUSTRIAN SITUATION ALARMS STATESMEN

Pressing Needs of Old Hapsburg Empire Displace German Reparation on Program.

Paris, January 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—The supreme council, composed of representatives of Great Britain, Italy, France, Belgium and Japan, today heard the military experts and later conferred together regarding the failure of Germany to disarm, as provided for by the treaty of Versailles. The experts were asked to make a detailed report on the subject, with recommendations regarding measures to insure execution of the disarmament clauses of the treaty. The experts will meet tomorrow morning, while the council will, contrary to expectation, take up the situation of Austria, instead of reparations.

The British prime minister, Lloyd George, and the president of the French council, Aristide Briand, it is understood, desire an opportunity to talk over the different phases of the reparations question before the subject comes up for discussion at the full council. Thus the change in the council's program.

In this connection the premiers are said to be considering whether it is feasible and advisable to have the German representative sit with the council before the final decision on reparations is taken. The British delegation is believed to favor inviting the Germans to take part in the discussion after the allies come to an understanding among themselves.

Pending a decision on this question, Herr Bergmann, the German delegate, it is expected, will confer with Louis Loucheur, the French minister of liberated regions, and it is reported he will make an offer to pay two billion marks in gold within a year, one-fourth of that amount in cash.

The possibility of a German being invited to sit with the council depends partly upon Herr Bergmann's reply to Mr. Loucheur, who will ask him if Germany has any proposition to make before the allies meet before the final decision on reparations is taken. The British delegation is understood to be greatly alarmed at the situation in Austria, and will endeavor to find some way for the council's assistance of that country. The eastern question, Greece and the treaty of Sèvres will be taken up after the council has finished considering the Austrian situation.

CONGRESS TO USE DIXIE TARIFF DATA

National Recognition of Southern Congress by Chairman Fordney, of Ways and Means Committee.

National recognition of the Southern tariff congress, which will convene here Thursday and remain in session through the week, was given yesterday by an official invitation from Congressman Fordney, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house, requesting the association to send committees representing various interests associated with it to appear before the ways and means committee to present the claims of southern industry to that body. The information which the committee assemblies will be used in perfecting the schedules of the permanent tariff law which the new congress will pass at the next session.

Several men of outstanding prominence in the nation's affairs will appear on the program of the congress. Besides Calvin Coolidge, vice president-elect, who will head the list of speakers, James V. Good, chairman of the appropriations committee of the present congress; James T. McHenry, former congressman from Tennessee, member of the ways and means committee for many years, and recognized as one of the leading authorities of the nation on tariff matters; C. H. Houston, of Chattanooga, who is reputed to be slated for a cabinet position in the incoming administration at Washington, and John M. Parker, of Louisiana, who is one of the foremost champions of protection for raw materials of the south, will make addresses during the sessions.

Meet at Tabernacle.
Meetings will be held at the Baptist Tabernacle, beginning Thursday morning, and will continue throughout the week. Governor Coolidge is scheduled to speak Thursday night, but the definite time of the other addresses has not been settled upon. Other speakers will be drawn from different times.

Singing, Soldiers Go to Stand Trial On Murder Charge

Nine Alabama Guardsmen Reach Scene of Pending Trial After Lynching.

Hamilton, Ala., January 24.—Nine members of Company M, Alabama national guard, charged with murder in connection with the lynching of William Blair, miner, of Walker county January 17, entered Marion county jail here at noon with songs on their lips.

Robert L. Lancaster and Glenn R. Stephens, of Tuscaloosa, two of the nine, were arraigned here this afternoon, the trial of Lancaster set for January 31, and that of Stephens for February 2.

The remaining seven men under indictment will be arraigned when the special term of court is convened for the trial.

All the way along a dust-choked highway from Alabama, the party left the train, to this place, the guardsmen made the mountain valleys ring with their singing. From "Hall, Hall, the Gang's All Here," to "I've Got the Blues," and "Nearer My God to Thee," the accused soldiers allowed no moment on the trip to the isolated mountain town where the curtain next week will rise on the state's greatest court drama.

The railroad and telegraph have never reached Hamilton, but there are privately owned telephones.

Occupied Special Car.
Jasper, Ala., January 24.—Singing popular songs as the train which bore them passed through this place today, the members of Company M state militia, under heavy guard, were being taken from Birmingham to Hamilton, Marion county, for arraignment on murder charges arising out of the lynching of William Blair, a miner, here January 17.

The guardsmen were handcuffed and occupied a special car on a regular passenger train. Special Assistant Attorney General Wilkinson, court officials and lawyers for the state and defense, occupied one section of the car.

Attorneys for the accused guardsmen said that they would resist the effort to bring their clients to trial on next Monday, the date set by the state for the trial.

The grand jury will resume its hearings tomorrow with other members of the grand jury.

"State's attorneys announced that they will file a motion to quash the indictment against the guardsmen."

BRITISH-RUSSIAN PACT TERMS TOLD

Both Governments Agree to Refrain From Hostile Action or Propaganda Against the Other.

London, January 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—The terms of the British-Russian preliminary agreement, which Leonid Krassin, the soviet representative, has taken to Moscow for consideration officially, have been made public. The most important terms follow:

Each party agrees to refrain from hostile action or propaganda outside its borders against the other's institutions. The soviet particularly agrees to refrain from any encouragement of Asiatic peoples to action against British interests, especially in Asia Minor, Persia, Afghanistan and elsewhere.

British subjects in Russia and Russians in Great Britain will be permitted to return to their homes if so desired. Each agrees not to impose any form of blockade against the other, or to refuse to the nations against trade not imposed on foreign countries. Ships in the Black Sea will be treated on an even footing.

To Clear Mists.
The agreement provides for the clearance of mists from the Baltic sea, and the approaches to Russia, and the exchange of information regarding the admission of both countries of persons appointed to carry out the agreement, and also for the restriction to specified areas and the exclusion of any who are persons non grata, and also for exemption from taxation. A renewal of telegraph and postal facilities, including parcels post, will be arranged.

Great Britain agrees to refrain from attaching any gold securities or commodities, not identifiable as British government property, which may be supplied to Russia, or payment for imports or securities for payment, and to refrain as well from imposing any form of restriction of specie or bullion from Russia, and from requisitioning such.

Formal Treaty Pending.
The preamble sets forth that the agreement is necessary for the conclusion of a formal general treaty between these governments, whereby their economic and political relations shall be regulated in the future.

SUPPORT PLEDGED FOR BOND ISSUE BY CIVIC LEAGUE

Unqualified Indorsement Given the Movement at Meeting of North Boulevard Park Citizens.

MEMBERS IN FAVOR OF $1.50 TAX RATE

Education Board Meets to Plan Distribution of Funds Given Schools, If Bonds Pass.

Unqualified indorsement was given to the proposed bond issue of $8,500,000 for civic improvements to be voted on March 8, at a meeting Monday night of the North Boulevard Park Citizens' league held at the home of J. P. Greene, 36 Elmwood avenue.

Members of the league also were unanimously on record as favoring the charter amendment to increase Atlanta's ad valorem tax rate from $1.25 to $1.50 on the $100, in order to provide additional revenue to care for the interest and sinking fund on the bond issue.

The North Boulevard Civic league is one of the largest and most progressive of the city's improvement organizations, and its complete accord of action indicated the general temper of the citizens living in the large section north of Piedmont park on the bond and tax issues.

Adopted Without Opposition.
G. W. Lees, former president of the league, was author of the motion to declare the league squarely in the fight for bonds, and R. C. Desautels, secretary, seconded the motion. The motion was adopted without a dissenting voice.

Strong appeals in behalf of the bond issue were delivered in addresses by W. F. Dykes, superintendent of schools; W. L. McCalley, Jr., chairman of the finance committee of the board of education, and in talks by different members of the league.

"One of the principal objects of the league was to discuss a proposed new school to be located in North Boulevard section, and the question was presented to the school heads. School leaders and the membership of the league were agreeably surprised and gratified at the offer of Mr. Desautels to discuss the bond issue of education at a tract of one block from Virginia avenue, as the site for the erection of a new grammar school."

This tract is at present outside of the city limits, but if the board decides to locate a new school in the North Boulevard section, it will be with favor upon the site which Mr. Desautels tendered as desirable.

Sections will be taken up after the charter amendment is discussed.

British Sentiment Thought Favorable To Navy Reduction

England Reported as Willing to Agree to Policy of Equal Navies for Two Countries.

BRIGHTENS PROSPECTS FOR NAVY REDUCTION

"Ton for Ton and Gun for Gun," Is British Slogan for Two Great Anglo-Saxon Navies.

BY LOWELL McILLET, United News Staff Correspondent.
Washington, January 24.—Confidential information reaching Washington from London in the past few days reveals that the British government is so much in a hurry to get on with the navy reduction, that it is inclined to meet the United States exactly halfway in the matter of naval disarmament. That is to say, England is willing to agree on a reduction policy that will put the British and the United States navies on an even footing.

This, if events prove it true, makes the prospects for disarmament brighter than the most ardent advocates have dared hope. Heretofore, practically every unofficial opinion that has been obtainable from London has been to the effect that no disarmament that would fall to leave England stronger than any other power on the seas would be considered by that country. Now, however, assurances from excellent sources have come to Washington that Great Britain is willing to discuss a mutual reduction policy with the United States that would leave the two powers of as nearly the same strength as it is possible to make them.

Loyal Wife Says Ambition Caused Fall of Husband

Mrs. R. C. Bachellor Relieved That Former Banker Has Surrendered.

R. C. Bachellor, former vice president of the Bank of Palmetto, who surrendered to a private detective agency in Dallas, Texas, declaring he was wanted in Campbell county on charges of embezzlement, stated that the bank will probably be a prisoner in the Fulton county jail within the next two weeks. Sheriff Jenkins, of Campbell county, having made preparation to bring him back to Georgia.

His wife, with their three children, John, Gertrude and Elizabeth, have been making their home at 468 South Pryor street for several months. Mrs. Bachellor and her son are both working in a downtown department store, while the two daughters are attending school. Mrs. Bachellor stated that she and the children would remain loyal to her husband, and expressed relief that the "winding up of the trouble which brought about separation" was in sight.

In her narration concerning her first acquaintance with Bachellor, their courtship and marriage, the wife sometimes sobbed bitterly, stating that he was a telegraph operator and that he had overstated his ambition to "insure the permanent welfare of his family," adding that he probably lost the money through speculation. Nevertheless she insisted that his purposes were honorable; that he had not intended to harm or defraud any one; that he had hopes of being able to obtain the money and make good his losses when he fled, and that his failure to make enough to replace the amount of the alleged shortage together with the thought of the love for his family, would probably explain the motives that actuated him in surrendering.

"Every human in life makes mistakes if they ever try to accomplish anything; every one with ambition meet reverses and will do some things under certain circumstances that they would not. And my husband has made his mistake; he has seen and felt the wrong he did, and he was sick and tired of the embarrassment hanging over his family and over himself. Where others have succeeded he failed, which resulted in his shortage being discovered," said Mrs. Bachellor.

Litigation between the Bank of Palmetto and the Alex Hyman & Co., of New York, now pending in the United States district court here, was begun as the aftermath of the alleged defalcation of Bachellor. Hyman instituted proceedings to recover $25,000 from the Bank of Palmetto on certain transactions in which Bachellor was involved, and the Bank of Palmetto filed counter suit.

GERMAN PRICES BEAT AMERICAN ON LOW GRADES

Temple, Texas, January 4.—Announcement was made today by the Bell county farm bureau that a shipment of low grade cotton to Germany had been sold at a profit of from $12.50 to $15 a bale over prices offered in American markets. The cotton graded strict low middling and netted $11.50 per 100 pounds in Bremen.

ATLANTANS TOLD HOW ADVERTISING AIDS THE NATION

Interest of City in Coming Convention of Associated Clubs of the World Shown at Banquet.

That Atlanta is deeply interested in the coming convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World and proud of the part played in this profession by Atlanta men was demonstrated last night when more than 200 persons attended the banquet at the Capital City club tendered the executive committee of the organization which is in session here planning the June meeting.

Compliments on Atlanta's progressiveness were a feature of the meeting. Judge Charles J. Orbeson, vice president and general counsel of the A. A. C. W., received frequent applause in an address tending with patriotism, in which he stated that advertising, which has demonstrated its effectiveness in commercial lines, is the greatest power in improving economic conditions and driving forward the Atlantic seaboard all business. I. W. W. A. socialists and anarchists of every character.

$4,000,000 LOSS DONE TO BUSINESS SECTION OF CITY

Appeals Sent to Neighboring Towns to Furnish Apparatus to Help in Fighting the Flames.

ATLANTA DEPARTMENT PLANNING TO SEND AID

Max Joseph Building and Retail Stores of Michael Brothers Destroyed by Blaze.

Notified early this morning, by The Constitution, at the request of Hugh Howe, editor of The Athens Banner, acting on behalf of the mayor and city council, Chief W. B. Cody, of the Atlanta fire department, was preparing to send help to the stricken city. He stated that as soon as he could get railroad facilities he would dispatch a pumper, steamer, and about eighteen men to give what aid would be possible.

At 2:30 o'clock this morning a telephone message to The Constitution from Athens stated that the fire was still raging and that the entire block, bounded by Jackson, Clayton, Broad and College avenue was in the grip of flames.

At that hour Chief Cody and his men were in the railroad yards at Spring street awaiting a train to carry them to Athens. The loss in Athens at that time was estimated at approximately $4,000,000.

Athens, Ga., January 25.—Fire which broke out here at midnight was still burning fiercely early today in the heart of the business district and three hours after it started had caused damage estimated at $4,000,000.

Explosions of gasoline drums in the Max Joseph building, the lower floor of which was occupied by the Denny Motor company, scattered the flames before firemen could gain control, and the fire spread down the east side of Wall street south to Broad, virtually destroying every building along the street, and also burned three stores on Broad street.

The flames leaped across the street to the five-story building occupied by the wholesale and retail concern of Michael Brothers, dealers in dry goods and notions, which was practically destroyed. Appeals for fire apparatus as it appeared the local department could not control the flames.

As far as known there were no casualties from the fire which attracted hundreds of residents to the downtown section.

The fire continued to spread more than three hours after it started and after virtually destroying the two buildings occupied by Michael Brothers, another tongue of flame spread from the building on Broad street, and was sent to the Max Joseph building, a five-story structure, had recently been purchased by the Athens Savings bank. The building occupied by the Max Joseph building.

TEN NEGROES DIE AS GAS EXPLODES

Entire Block of Dwellings in Memphis Shattered by Blast From Gasoline Tank.

Memphis, Tenn., January 24.—Ten negroes dead, approximately a score injured, some probably fatally, and property damage estimated at $200,000, made up the known toll tonight of an explosion of "casing head" gasoline awaiting unloading from a tank car to the plant of the Colyar Reese company in North Memphis, which left so this morning with a blast that wrecked a part of the oil plant, leveled a block of frame dwellings and shook the entire north end of the city.

Of the injured two are white persons. L. C. Scott, superintendent of the Reese plant, and L. C. Wilder, truck superintendent. Both were badly burned, but physicians stated tonight they will recover.

Spontaneous Combustion. Colyar Reese, president of the oil company, attributed the explosion to spontaneous combustion due to the contact of vapor escaping from the tank car when the metallic cap was removed preparatory to unloading the car, came in contact with the atmosphere. The tank car, which contained 8,000 gallons of casing head gasoline produced by the absorption process, was shipped here from Kelleysville, Oklahoma. Mr. Reese stated, and was loaded in a low temperature. When the cap was removed, according to this theory, the vapor came in contact with much higher atmospheric conditions here and the explosion followed.

It was stated that representatives of the United States bureau of explosives and experts from the refinery from which the car was shipped will arrive tomorrow to definitely determine the cause of the blast.

When the explosion let go a row of frame tenement houses along an entire block were splintered and the occupants blown to the street or caught under the falling timbers. Most of those killed were negroes. Several were badly injured, while several of the injured were so badly burned they died soon after reaching a hospital. When police and firemen reached the scene the streets and alleys in the vicinity were littered with splintered timbers and torn and twisted household goods, with the dead and injured caught in the tangled mass of wreckage.

Negro Worker Dies. Andrew McKinley, the negro who was removing the dome from the tank car when the explosion occurred, was hurled several hundred feet through the air, landed on his back and died tonight. McKinley was quoted as saying that he had been struck by a piece of steel which had exploded. Almost simultaneously pools of oil on the ground caught fire and a second explosion occurred. One report was that McKinley used a chisel in attempting to remove the cap from the tank car. This, however, has not been verified.

Mr. Reese stated that his investigation improved many other than that the explosion was caused by spontaneous combustion. The damage in the immediate vicinity of the tank car was within a radius of several blocks were shattered by the concussion. The blast was felt at a distance of half a mile from the scene. Two sheds at the plant of the Colyar Reese plant were lifted bodily from their foundations and fell in a heap.

Pathetic Incidents. One of the most pathetic incidents was that of a negro family named Petty. The mother and oldest daughter were burned to death and two other children were taken to a hospital in a critical condition. The father had just left for his work at the general hospital it was stated that eighteen negroes were injured by severe burns or broken limbs.

On fireman was injured in fighting the fire which followed the explosion. With the tragedy scenes about the wrecked dwellings were the bodies of the negroes who emerged from their homes virtually without clothing in the view of the onlookers. One negro, a policeman grabbed an overcoat from a spectator and wrapped it about the man and the negro takers engaged in a fight and a fireman left his hose long enough to throw a bystander who failed to respond to a call to aid an injured negro to an ambulance.

Breakfast Cooking. Another negro dragged his stove from his wrecked home a block away with the fire still burning and his breakfast still cooking. The explosion here recalls a somewhat similar explosion in a railroad yard at Ardmore, Okla., several years ago when a 250-barrel tank car casing head gas exploded, killing 42 persons and injuring a number of others, besides causing property damage which ran into the millions. The explosion at Ardmore was attributed to a leak in the tank with formed a pool of oil which became ignited.

of industry represented by the tariff association, and impromptu talks will be made by all citizens interested in the work of the congress.

An indication of the sentiment that is rapidly crystallizing in the south for a tariff on southern raw materials is shown by the receipt of fifty telegrams at the headquarters of the congress Monday from the Citizens Grocers Association of Florida endorsing the movement inaugurated by the congress and making a plea for the inclusion of citrus fruits on the list of industries deserving protection in the next tariff bill.

C. E. Stewart, Jr., manager of the Florida Citrus Fruit exchange, arrived in Atlanta early Monday morning and will remain throughout the entire session of the congress. W. A. Logan, of the American Shipping Corporation of Jacksonville, is also here and, with Mr. Stewart, will represent Florida in the deliberations of the congress.

A delegation of Texans arrived Monday morning to attend the preliminary meeting and assist in outlining the scope of work that will be taken up by the organization in its fight to have southern industry recognized by congress in tariff matters. Among them are Colonel Louis J. Wortham, editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and chairman of the press division of the tariff congress; George W. Armstrong, cattleman and steel manufacturer; and well-known economist; Marion Sammons, prominent wool and cotton grower; and E. S. Shannon, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Fort Worth, formerly manager of the Nashville Chamber of Commerce, and well known in commercial club work throughout the south, and Judas James Corns, representative of extensive sheep and ranch interests of west Texas.

Honey Producer Here. J. J. Wilder, of Waycross, Ga., who is said to be the largest honey producer in America, arrived Monday and will represent the American Honey league at the congress.

Paulo Burgess, large cane and sugar planter of Louisiana, was in attendance at Monday's preliminary meeting, and a committee of six other cane and sugar men from that state will join him Wednesday to represent their industry at the congress.

Courtesy DeKalb, former representative of the federal department of commerce in mineral research in Spain and other foreign countries, is one of the early visitors in attendance at the congress. Preliminary work of the committee begun in earnest with the arrival of John H. Kirby, of Houston, president of the association.

Establish Procedure. "Since the movement is practically a new line of endeavor in government activities, it is necessary that its purposes and methods of procedure should be discussed and understood by all who desire a successful solution for the problems that affect the producers of raw materials," he stated.

"I am personally a believer in tariff for revenue and do not consider that tariff is the best interest of this country. But the position of our association is not to say whether tariff should be levied for revenue or protection, but rather our mission is to see that all levies, whether for protection or revenue, shall be so distributed that the burdens and benefits fall equally on all classes and sections, without favor to any and with justice and equity to all."

"It is a common error on the part of students of government to accept the theory that the democratic party was founded on the principle of free raw material. No greater fallacy could be imagined than this false doctrine attributed to the founders of the party when as a matter of fact it was introduced by latter-day politicians in direct contradiction to the teachings of great democratic leaders. No man has made of free raw material since the beginning of government until 1920 when Cleveland included it in the national platform of the democratic party. This doctrine was repeated in 1896 and appeared again in the tariff laws of the present administration."

Thomas Jefferson during his last administration signed a high protective tariff. He was not a protectionist and at no time in his brilliant career did he advocate free raw material. One of Jefferson's last statements was: "My own idea is that we should encourage home

COX WILL CONFER WITH WHITE TODAY

Pressing Campaign Deficit of a Quarter-Million Will Be the Subject of Discussion.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN.
Washington, January 24.—(Special.)—Ex-Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, former democratic nominee for president, will confer with Chairman George White of the national committee, former chairman of the House of Representatives and other democratic leaders tomorrow, but this particular conference will deal with meeting a pressing campaign deficit of a quarter of a million dollars than any proposed reorganization of the democratic party.

Governor Coolidge, according to a telegram received at headquarters here, will leave for New York Tuesday, arriving here Wednesday. A suite has been reserved for the governor at the Hotel Hamilton. The Georgian Terrace hotel, where they will go immediately upon their arrival, is the headquarters of the southern producers. It will have rendered a great service to the southern producers. It will have rendered a great service to the southern producers.

Spends Vacation in South. New York, January 24.—Vice President-elect Coolidge will spend a vacation in the south, beginning Monday, after his speech here Tuesday, a conference of business men in Atlanta the latter part of this week. He will go to New Orleans, La., until the middle of February. He will leave here tomorrow for Atlanta.

sary to extend the corporate limits to bring this parcel and adjacent territory into the city.

President L. B. James, who presided at the meeting, and other members, declared that the Boulevard section must have a new school. Children of this community are now being forced to go long distances to school. The school is overcrowded and the conditions are deplorable.

New School Is Needed. In his speech Superintendent Dykes declared that he had a new school desired by the patrons of the Boulevard community and that he would be glad to see them could safely expect the school. He went at length into an explanation of the need of a new school system and urged the members to set back of the bond issue with all the support and influence they could command. The president asked him that distribution would be made of the $4,000,000 in their new event bonds. Mr. Dykes replied that the board of education will meet Tuesday afternoon to take up the study of this question, and when it has had time it will formulate and present to the public a program showing in detail where and how the money is to be expended.

Mr. McClellan, who has a vivid picture of the conditions prevailing in the school system, he described at length. Mr. McClellan asserted that Atlanta has a corps of competent teachers, the spirit of the schools is fine and with the proper physical property the schools before Atlanta to possess one of the most efficient school systems in the United States.

Urges Bond Issue.

With the emergency tax, said Mr. McClellan, the school system best cannot do anything but tide over until another year, and he urged the citizens to do everything in their power to put across a big victory for bonds.

Strong sentiment for bonds was expressed by F. E. Matfett, former chairman of the city's educational committee of the league. Splendid reports were rendered by the chairman of various committees.

Aims and Tenets Of Ku Klux Klan Given by Simmons

Imperial Wizard Makes Public Address in Decatur Courthouse.

The principles of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan were discussed in an interesting talk by Col. William J. Simmons, Imperial Wizard of the order, at the courthouse in Decatur Monday night. The speaker said that the Ku Klux Klan has been legally incorporated, exists for the preservation of American institutions, and from other sources unfriendly to its aims. The preservation of law and good order, and the furtherance of the nation's ideals are, he stated, the purposes of the society.

The present Ku Klux Klan, he said, which has been organized in recent years, exists as a memorial to the deeds of the original order in the days of Reconstruction. A parade of the Klansmen, in the robes of the order, was held at 6:30 o'clock through the streets of Decatur. The parade was headed by a bugler and the fiery cross, the symbol of the Klan.

JURY ACQUITS YOUTH HELD AS AUTO THIEF

Sam Corley, a white youth of Cedartown, who was tried before Judge John P. Humes yesterday on a charge of stealing an automobile belonging to R. E. O'Donnell, was acquitted after stating to the jury that a friend had stolen the car from him.

The car was taken from in front of the O'Donnell residence on November 21. The car was found in the mud on the Fowler Springs road. The friend had not been arrested. Corley was represented by Attorney C. Don Miller.

Foreign Exchange Has Day of Heavy Buying in Market

New York, January 24.—Heavy buying of foreign exchange, particularly sterling, French and Belgian francs, featured today's international money market at this center. Sterling demand bills rose after the close of the market to $279.14, the highest figure since last August, and Paris bills at 7.35 cents, also represented the maximum quotation for a similar period.

The rise in bills on Belgium was even more spectacular, advancing from 7.15 cents last week's final price, to 7.81 in response to the successful offering of that government's $20,000,000 loan by a syndicate of American bankers.

All other forms of foreign exchange excepting the Dutch and Greek rates were appreciably higher, including German marks and Austrian kronen.

Air Mail Service, Atlanta Included, To Start in May

Air mail service, to include Atlanta, Raleigh, Washington and New York, will begin May 15, according to an announcement made today by Alfred W. Lawson, president of the Lawson Airplane Company of Milwaukee.

Before starting mail, the company will, it is stated, begin a daily passenger and express service. The first mail service will be started at the same time. These are as follows: New York, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago, and Pittsburgh, Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and St. Louis. The service will be operated by the Lawson Airplane Company.

PLANE PATRONS WILL BE CHARGED BY WEIGHT

Milwaukee, Wis., January 24.—The Lawson Airplane company, when it begins its air mail service next May, will charge passengers according to weight, says Lawson.

Under the plan, a passenger of approximate weight of 4,000 pounds, Mr. Lawson said, no standard number of passenger has yet been fixed, he added.

BURN GRASS CALLS KEEP FIREMEN BUSY

The fire department was called out by alarms from burning grass four times Monday afternoon and night. Small fires at 14 North Boulevard, 44 Crest Hill avenue, on Sells avenue and at South Gordon street were the cause of the alarms. Fires in woods in two sections of town, Spring and Sixth and Ashby and Buchanan, brought the fire department out.

MOVING PICTURE 'HOUSE IN GRIFFIN' BOUGHT BY LYNCH

The Alamo, the principal moving picture house in Griffin, owned and

PLEA FOR DESERTION

Herbert G. Shaw, of Atlanta, has filed suit for divorce against his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Shaw, charging desertion. His petition says that they were married in Cambridge, Mass., in 1902, and she left him without provocation in Torrington, Conn., in 1917.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspirinal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Indorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories tested, approved and most enthusiastically indorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whisky, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal, and let him serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow, and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children. (adv.)

PUT CREAM IN NOSE
AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no hawking, sniffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night. Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this to the inside of each nostril, and the mucous membrane will be soothed and healed. It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable. TECH TOUR WILL START APRIL 4

Trip of Prominent Georgians Expected to Help in Business and Industrial Revival Here.

Definite announcement was made today that the week of April 4-9, inclusive, has been selected for the state-wide industrial tour of the Georgia School of Technology, which is expected to help start a business and industrial revival.

The tour was originally set for the week of January 10-15, to follow as close as possible the Georgia Tech industrial tour into the east and north. Postponement was necessary, however, because of weather conditions and because many business men would have been deprived of the privilege of joining the tour in January, because of inventories and business readjustments at the first part of the year.

One of the leading figures in the tour will be Dr. K. G. Matheson, president of Georgia Tech, who returned Monday from a trip to New York with news of better business and of a greater general confidence in the future of the state. He said it is being restored rapidly, and Dr. Matheson. "Everywhere there are signs that business is improving. With better business conditions, better weather and generally more favorable auspices, the industrial tour of the state in April should have a compelling effect."

The state-wide tour is designed that Georgia's foremost citizens spread the gospel of industrial salvation which they learned on the eastern industrial trip. They will present themselves as disciples of the new industrial lessons, by which Georgia's wealth, happiness and stability for all the future is to be brought about. The first step in the progress they will urge is to build up around the nucleus of the present Georgia Tech, an institution comparable to the best in the east.

MRS. BURCH'S FUNERAL WILL BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for Mrs. C. C. Burch, aged 62, who died early Sunday morning at the residence, 111 Thompson avenue, East Point, will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the residence, with A. C. Hemperley in charge. Mrs. Burch is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Oscar Howell and Mrs. J. T. Jallotte, of Atlanta, and Mrs. J. M. Baughman, of Elyria; two sons, C. Burch, of Atlanta; two sisters, Mrs. L. B. Winter and Mrs. J. M. Ivey, of Augusta.

JUDGE H. C. HAMMOND
PRESIDES THIS WEEK

Judge Henry C. Hammond, of Augusta, is presiding this week in the criminal division of superior court, exchanging benches with Judge John Humphries. Next week, it is expected that a number of the "confidence game" cases, resulting from the last grand jury investigation, will be taken up when it is expected that two divisions of the criminal court will sit, with both Judge Humphries and Judge Hammond busy with two sessions each day.

Funeral for Dr. Spalding
Will Be Conducted Today

Dr. A. T. Spalding, widely-known and beloved veteran Baptist minister, whose funeral will be held Tuesday from the Ponce de Leon Baptist church. Dr. Spalding, who was the city's oldest Baptist minister and also the oldest living graduate of Mercer university, passed away Monday at the home, 499 Courtland street, in the 90th year, after having given 66 years of his life to the ministry.

Funeral services for Dr. A. T. Spalding, Atlanta's oldest Baptist minister and also the oldest living graduate of Mercer university, whose death occurred Monday afternoon at the residence, 499 Courtland street, will be held from the Ponce de Leon Baptist church Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Dr. M. Ashby Jones and Dr. Henry Alford Porter will conduct the funeral services, and pallbearers will be Dr. John F. Purser, Dr. S. C. McConnell, Dr. C. W. Daniel, Dr. W. H. Major, Dr. J. W. Ham and T. C. Scoggins. The ministers of the Atlanta Baptist conference, deacons of the Ponce de Leon church, deacons of the Second Baptist church and the staff of the Georgia Baptist Orphan's home will act as an honorary escort. Interment will be in West View.

He was taken ill after Christmas and had steadily become worse, until last week when his life was despaired of by physicians at his bedside.

Dr. Spalding was the oldest Baptist minister in Atlanta, having passed his eighty-ninth birthday October 30, 1831, was ordained a minister in 1854 and had been in the active ministry ever since, giving more than sixty-six years of service. He was brought up in Greenville, S. C., and Gainesville, Ga., the son of Albert Mathias Spalding and Lucinda Burton. His father was a Baptist minister, a professor and a man of scholarly attainments. He was the age of 16 when Theodore Spalding entered Mercer university, which was then located in Fairfield. Here he was converted and resolved to enter the ministry. After graduating in 1854 he entered the theological department for two years.

He was at once called to the Baptist church in Augusta, where he was ordained in 1854. Aiken, S. C., was his next pastorate, where he served from 1855 to 1857. It was during this pastorate that he was married to Constantine, daughter of Charles S. C. They celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary on January 1, 1920. Mrs. Spalding died in January, 1920.

Dr. Spalding was pastor of the church in Milledgeville from 1860 to 1862, and then was called to the Berean Baptist church in Philadelphia.

U. S. BOARD TO HEAR WAGE CUT CASE TODAY

Col. B. L. Bugg, of A., B. & A., Leaves for Chicago Hearing.

In response to a summons from the United States railroad labor board, Colonel B. L. Bugg, president of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, left Atlanta Monday for Chicago.

He and other officials of the road were summoned before the federal wage board Tuesday, when a hearing of a wage issue between the railroad and the union employees of the A. B. & A. will be held.

It is also understood that under the Eech-Cummings transportation schedule the board may hear and decide upon the issue between the road and the men. It has no power to make any findings. The fact that the statement has been officially made several times that the railroad has no alternative in the matter of reducing wages, and that a general strike over the country among the railroad unions to prevent a wage reduction, was freely discussed here among the union officials and others, causes much interest to be centered upon the hearing of this case.

Wily 'Shiners
Use Many Ruses
In Evading Law

Whisky Shipped in Molasses Barrels and Stored in Hot-Water Bottles and Gourds.

What will be the next subterfuge of the crafty moonshiner and whisky smuggler in plying their flagitious traffic to be disclosed by the shrewd eyes of Uncle Sam? The corn clique is resorting to such cunning to secretly introduce its product into the Atlanta Bootleggers exchange, and are employing such fantastic means to evade the law's strong arm, that D. J. Gantt, supervising federal prohibition agent for the southeast, has ceased to wonder at anything his agents report.

A story is in circulation in north Georgia, which, of course, cannot be confirmed, but which gives an instance of the wily ways of the moonshiners. According to it, a Macon man and a north Georgia mountaineer from the vicinity of Commerce met in Atlanta, and the former mentioned the fact that he was badly in need of five gallons of pure mountain dew.

Stating that the five gallons, could not be obtained, the Macon man was astonished when his mountain friend offered to bet him $500 that he could ship five gallons of pure mountain dew to Macon without being detected. The bet was accepted and the incident forgotten, when the Macon man some time later received a big hoghead that slowly leaked sorghum molasses.

Remembering the bet, he drained off the molasses and found a five-gallon keg of corn securely fastened in the interior of the molasses barrel, which latter had been so fixed that it would leak innocent-looking molasses and had been sent deliberately by freight in order to allay suspicion.

Used Hot-Water Bottles.

The Macon man being a game loser, according to the story, immediately sent his check for $500 to cover his bet.

Another astute dewboy at Tloga, Ga., which is located somewhere on the Louisville and Nashville, in the region where the machine shaves the strongest, conceived the idea of smuggling his brew in hot-water bottles. He ordered such bottles with the fluid and dispatched them to Atlanta on the train.

Government and city officials met the train and seized the liquor. As to the owner of the goods, his identity remains a dark mystery.

Another novel article of the distiller was disclosed in a story that has buzzed around since a raiding party returned from a recent trip to a north Georgia county. Those familiar with farm life know of the rural practice of cutting down a tree and removing all except a few uppermost branches, which are trimmed and equipped with large gourds, prepared with round holes for nesting places for martins, whose presence forms an advantageous because of the insect-devolving and hawk-chasing tendencies of those birds.

Corn-Bearing Gourds.

It seems, so the narrative goes, that a party of officers were resting one day by the roadside after walking branches for several consecutive hours. A county officer who was associated with the federal force on the expedition was a long range rifle, and began looking for a target some distance away, to test the accuracy of his gun.

A few hundred feet away he spied a martin pole, bearing a score or more of gourds, erected in a farm house garden. Two of the officers were asked to station themselves directly under a certain gourd and a certain if the bullet found its mark.

The men stood under the pole. The shot was fired, and to the bewilderment of the officers who stood under the pole, a small stream of liquid began to trickle from the gourd to the ground. Two well-trained noses were bent to the ground and the aroma of corn whisky was scented.

Shades of Aesop's goose that laid the golden egg! Shadows of Luther Burbank! A whisky tree, growing in a man's collar patch! That was a discovery thought by men, that eclipsed by far the reported discovery of a dairy farm on the Savannah river, which was stocked with cows that gave whisky. (The "cow" story was afterwards termed "bull" by Mr. Gantt.) The men wondered what prolific variety of corn had been planted there to produce such a valuable stalk.

Gourds Sealed.

After the men had in turn pinched each other, another gourd was plucked, drinking cup was produced and a sample of the fluid yielded by this new tree was officially tasted. The big pole was given several violent pushes, and it toppled to earth with a crash.

HOW TO GET RID OF CATARRH

A Simple, Safe, Inexpensive Method that Clears Out the Head, Nose and Throat.

There is no disease more offensive or disagreeable or no disease that will lead to as much serious trouble as catarrh. You can now get rid of it by a simple, safe, pleasant home remedy discovered by Dr. Blosser, a catarrh specialist.

Dr. Blosser's Remedy is composed of medicinal herbs, flowers and berries, which you smoke in a dainty pipe or cigarette. The smoke-vapor enters into all the air passages of the head, nose, throat and lungs; it contains no cubes or tobacco and is used by women and children as well as men.

This medicated smoke carries medicinal where sprays, douches and ointments cannot possibly reach. Its effect is soothing and healing and is entirely harmless. If you suffer from catarrh, asthma, catarrhal deafness, or subject to frequent colds, you should try this Remedy without delay.

A trial packet size of Dr. Blosser's Remedy (30 doses) can be sent for 35c. Or, send coin or stamps to The Blosser Co., 48 D.D. Atlanta, Ga., and they will send you a package postpaid. (adv.)

Several gourds were bursted and whisky spattered in every direction. The officers found that the gourds had been carefully sealed and that what appeared to be martin poles in their sides were round spots made with black paint. The necks had been removed in order to clean the inside of the gourds and afterwards replaced with a strong adhesive.

83D ANNIVERSARY
SURPRISE PARTY
GIVEN MINISTER

Dr. A. R. Holderby, pastor of the East Point Presbyterian church, said to be the first Presbyterian minister in active service in Dixie, was given a surprise party Monday in honor of his eighty-third birthday, which he will celebrate Tuesday.

The party was staged at the Peacock cafe at the regular ministerial luncheon meeting at noon. Special exercises were held in his honor, and warm congratulations tendered the veteran minister.

PALMER COMING
HERE TO INSPECT
FEDERAL PRISON

Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, who for some time has contemplated making a visit of inspection to the federal penitentiary here, will come to Atlanta for that purpose within the next few days, according to an announcement Monday at the federal building.

According to Aldine Chambers, well-known Atlanta attorney, who is a personal friend of the attorney, is expected to come last week, but he was delayed by important investigations being made by the department of justice. Warden Fred G. Zerbst stated that he has been expecting Mr. Palmer to make the trip for nearly a month.

Lay down your paper, Ned, let's talk about these walls—shall we Mellotone them?

No, now, Ned Sanders, I just won't be put off another time! If you don't help me decide about this wall, then it's up to you to like what I choose, or keep quiet about it.

We've tried paper and you don't like it. We've tried paint and you say "it looks so everlastingly painty," which is one of the reasons I want Mellotone.

Nell has it on her living room. A lovely warm tan. But it wasn't the color that made me so envious as it was the wonderful, rich velvety effect. Somehow it seems to be dull, without having any of that lifeless, flat look.

No such thing—Ned—it does not take an expert decorator to put it on; any painter can do it. Old Bill Brown put Nell's on.

Isn't that just like a man, always trying to find a hundred and one big reasons why we can't do things; instead of at least one little reason why we can?

If you are not the most exasperating husband I ever knew, "going to suggest Mellotone all along," were you? Oh, so you've been reading Lowe Bros. Help Hinder called "My Walls, What to Do with Them." Sometimes, Ned dear, I think you are not a half bad hubby after all.

Greatest Number Of Children Born To Mothers of 23

Three Women, Aged 39, 41
and 42, Have Fifteenth Child.

In your family in the 19,418?
Ten thousand four hundred and eighteen white families in which births occurred during the month of June, July and August of the year 1920 were selected by the state board of health some time ago from which to compile certain relative statistics which may be said to hold true for the state at large.

These families average 3.5 children apiece, including all births during and prior to the months named, making a total of 36,403
children represented.

An interesting fact developed is that the greatest number of children, approximately 6.13 per cent of all born, are borne by mothers at the age of 23 years. The youngest mother on record was 13 years old.

Of the 10,418 births, in as many different families, selected the following is true: Twenty-six were the 15th child; 15 were the 14th child, 3 were the 13th child, and 1 was the 16th child. Three of the mothers who bore their 15th child were 39, 41 and 42 years of age, respectively; one mother 41 years of age bore her 16th child, and one 48 years of age bore her 11th child.

General statistics are that 22.54 per cent of births are by mothers between the ages of 20 and 25, and 2.98 per cent by mothers between ages of 40 and 45.

The following table will probably hold true for the state at large:

Age of Mother.	Percentage of All Births
14 (white).....	.08
15 (white).....	.34
16 (white).....	1.15
17 (white).....	2.72
18 (white).....	4.01
19 (white).....	4.56
20 (white).....	4.83
21 (white).....	6.13
22 (white).....	.01

BANISH YOUR FEAR AND WIN SUCCESS. URGES LECTURER

A course of lectures on "Psychology of Business Success" will be delivered in the assembly hall of the chamber of commerce Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week by A. T. Osborn, recently elected president of the McCullom Club of Applied Psychology.

That it is the fear of failure which produces failure and minds directed in the other direction will attain success is the basis of the lectures.
The speaker was on the lecture platform for many years before accepting a position with a local industrial corporation.

At present, according to Osborn,
85 per cent of all men in business fail to attain success while the five per cent become leaders in commerce and finance. The 85 per cent can, with applied psychology, he states, reach the success now killed by their fears. The lectures are free.

FEDERAL EMPLOYMENT AGENCY OPENS SOON

The Atlanta branch of the United States government employment agency will be ready to begin business within a few days, according to announcement Monday. The office will be on the second floor of the city hall and will be in charge of a local director and a number of assistants. Both the federal and city governments will contribute equally to the support of the bureau.

WOODBERRY ALUMNAE BANQUET WEDNESDAY

The Woodberry alumnae will hold a luncheon on Wednesday, February 3, at 1 o'clock in the mahogany room of the Ansley hotel. All wishing to attend are asked to communicate with Miss Ethel Bittick, president of the alumnae. Reservations

White Slave Trial.

The preliminary trial of Lindsay Amaker and Mrs. Wilma Lineweber, two young Atlantans arrested by federal agents a few days ago on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Mann white slave act, was begun
Monday before United States Commissioner W. Coleman Carter. It will be resumed at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the federal grand jury room. In addition to the conspiracy charge, Amaker also faces a charge of white slavery.

Percal is the material, a splendid grade of percale,
And these Blouses are really MADE, just like you would make them if you had the time. They are completely seamed and finished and have the draw or button strings at the bottom. The collars are attached and button with a double button. These Blouses have little pockets and come in good colors, colors that we believe will stay fast through many washings if the Blouses are washed right. The manufacturer says they will not fade, but we cannot guarantee that because there never was a material which wouldn't fade if it was washed in a certain manner. However, they are the best Blouses for Boys we have ever seen for the money, and should one of them fade you are at liberty to return it.

We Haven't Overlooked the Baby.
Today We Offer Some Very Special Values in White Corduroy Coats and Other Dainty Things

Babies are wonderful things. Cuddly bits of humanity with crinkly smiles and dainty fluttering hands that clutch your heartstrings and won't let go. As they grow, each day brings a little pang to the heart of Mother and Daddy.
for Babies don't stay Babies very long. But for a few years at least, they are God's own messengers of happiness, bringing joy and brightness to this gloomy old world of our and making it a better place to live in. There are babies in Europe who may never grow up unless we all give them a chance. You can send a check to the relief fund and maybe save a Baby's life. The address is 1715 Candler Building, and checks should be made payable to Joseph McCord, State Treasurer.

THESE white Corduroy Coats are WASHABLE, naturally that is the first thing you want to know about a White Coat for the Baby. They tub splendidly. We have them in the short styles from 6 months to 2 years in size and they come in two numbers—one is a double-breasted Tailored Style, while the other is made with a yoke and prettily smocked. These have just arrived, they are new and very cunning and warm. Priced very special at—

New Wraps
And We Are Enabled to Offer Them at Greatly Reduced Prices

Several customers have been heard to complain lately that no new Coats were being shown in Atlanta; that everywhere they turned they found coats which had been here the better part of the season. Well, we have brought in some NEW WRAP COATS which depict the late season mode with correctness and verve. They are smart and developed from the materials which have been most popular and have splendid Fur Collars.

Purchasing so late, we, of course, were allowed price concessions and we are able to offer these splendid coats to you for a great deal less than they would ordinarily sell for. Mostly in Browns, handsome shades you will love. All of them with the most delightful linings, some harmonizing, some in sharply contrasting colors.

This is one of the best values in Coats we have of-

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrup, and saves about $2. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break severe coughs. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give definite satisfaction or money promptly refunded. Mrs. David Woodward's luncheon in honor of Mrs. George Maynard Mpor.

Miss Theodore Stansbury's luncheon at the Georgian Terrace in honor of Miss Jane Martin, of New York, member of the national executive board, Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

Marriage of Miss Carrie Peabody and John Taylor Montague, at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Peabody.

Benefit bridge at Woman's club by hospital and flower committees.

Miss Arline Scully's 5 o'clock tea for Miss Mary Rutherford Lipscomb, of Lakemont.

Mrs. George Veary's informal bridge-tee for Mrs. James Stewart Colvin, recent bride.

T. Aderhold, the president, in the chair.

Mrs. W. C. Misset, chairman of civics, presented Dr. Bateman, the new mayor of College Park, who outlined his policies for the coming year for the city administration. He invited the co-operation and assistance of the club in all the town's activities. In conclusion he presented to the club from the city, a beautiful memento given to College Park by the United States government.

Miss Dan C. Lyle, chairman of the Memorial clinic, responded, tendering thanks to the city and outlining the committee's plans for the memorial to our boys who sleep in France.

Mrs. W. W. Ward, music chairman, introduced Mr. Everhart, from Decatur, who gave two beautiful piano selections which were highly enjoyed.

As this was the anniversary of Lee's battle, Mrs. Misset then presented Dr. A. R. Holderby, a Confederate veteran, who served during the war with the army in Virginia, who gave a resume of General Lee's life and character, his military and political life, and his love and peace.

Rev. Israel Noe of the Church of the Incarnation at this afternoon, gave the chief address of the occasion on Christian citizenship, with the keynote of service.

The club then adjourned until the next meeting, February 2, 1921.

Mrs. Wight To Entertain.

Mrs. Ed L. Wight, Jr., will entertain at a matinee party this afternoon in honor of Mrs. D. C. Hudson, who was before her recent marriage Miss Jeanette Dewberry. The guests will be Mrs. D. C. Hudson, Miss Estelle Fitzgerald, Miss Mildred Estelle, Mrs. John L. Cody and Mrs. W. W. Star.

Miss Conway, Hostess.

Little Miss Mary Frances Conway entertained at a pretty party on Saturday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mary Frances Conway, on East Fourth street, the event being her ninth birthday.

The living room, drawing room and dining room were artistically decorated in the beautiful Valentine color. The dining room presented a pretty picture with its table covered with a white cloth, and in the center of the table was a large birthday cake adorned with nine little white rosebuds made of icing, each rosebud holding a tiny red candle.

The little hostess received her guests wearing a dainty frock of pink crepe de chine with white bolero. The party was very interesting and amusing game, "Telling the Sheep," was greatly enjoyed by all the children, the prize winner in this contest being Miss Eleanor Stanford, and Miss Martha Riddick won the trophy. Little Miss Conway delighted her young friends by her beautiful interpretative dancing. A number of the other children rendered pretty aesthetic dances which added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Those present were Misses Martha Riddick, Sara Riser, Marie Baker, Dorothy Wilcox, Eleanor Stanford, Virginia Dillon, Emily Winslow, May Phelan, Orme, Elizabeth Thompson, Martha Williams, Frances Maselon, Dorothy Partridge and Charlotte Cuddeh.

Mrs. Conway was assisted in entertaining her young daughter's guests by Miss Ruth Breck.

Y. W. Holds Annual Dinner Thursday

Mrs. Archibald Davis, president of the Y. W. C. A. board, who will preside at the annual dinner on Thursday evening, an event of broad interest to Atlanta women, as well as the hundreds of girls who are members.

An outstanding event of this week will be the annual dinner of the Young Women's Christian association, Thursday evening, January 27, 6:30 o'clock, at association headquarters, Peachtree Arcade. The banquet tables will be laid in the "Y" gymnasium and, as accommodations are limited, reservations must be made as early as possible in order to prevent confusion of the association's annual dinner of this year, when so great was the attendance that all seats were taken and many having failed to make reservations in advance had to seek nearby hotels and cafes for supper, returning to the "Y" later to hear the annual reports of the work accomplished by the association.

Tickets for Thursday evening's dinner are now on sale at the Y. W. C. A., Peachtree Arcade, at 75 cents per plate.

The speaker of the occasion will be the Rev. Thomas H. Johnston, dean of St. Philip's cathedral, whose theme will be "Influence." So far, Grace Lee Townsend will sing. At this time, Mrs. Archibald Davis, president of the Y. W. C. A., will make a brief report of the work of the association for the past year. Other brief reports will be made.

An outstanding event of this week will be the annual dinner of the Young Women's Christian association, Thursday evening, January 27, 6:30 o'clock, at association headquarters, Peachtree Arcade. The banquet tables will be laid in the "Y" gymnasium and, as accommodations are limited, reservations must be made as early as possible in order to prevent confusion of the association's annual dinner of this year, when so great was the attendance that all seats were taken and many having failed to make reservations in advance had to seek nearby hotels and cafes for supper, returning to the "Y" later to hear the annual reports of the work accomplished by the association.

New Organ and Organist At the Howard Win Praise

There were two important musical debuts at the Howard theater yesterday, and it is a little hard to say just which to put first—the premiere of the new organ or the first appearance of the new organist, Edwin Sawtelle.

The audience had an easier task. They could render their tributes to both simultaneously, and they did. Nothing since the opening of the theater and the revelation of the quality of the orchestra has occasioned such general enthusiasm as much as had been anticipated of the big organ and the man who is to handle it. The brilliant and original organist surpassed the expectations.

One reason for the surprise the new instrument gave is that probably very few people had considered the fact that there is a vast difference between the pipe organ one is accustomed to in churches and the theater organ. The former type has its fervent admirers, but there are many who resent it, because the character of the instrument is so different from the music usually played on it makes them serious and they do not like to be serious.

The Howard organ is not only a theater organ, but one that is noteworthy of its kind. Exceptionally elaborate in equipment, and powerful in tone, it leans to orchestral quality rather than pure organ, and proved ready for effects that were most stirring and beautiful.

As an adjunct to the orchestra of thirty-five pieces, the organ swelled its volume, and increased its effectiveness a hundred per cent, making the instrumental feature of the program one that would have overshadowed in interest any picture that might have been produced.

The motion picture theaters, it is said, are entirely responsible for a development of the organ along lines in which it might never have been developed, mainly through devices which allow a greater fluidity in playing. And it looks as if the organ in the motion picture house were going to be a real ally of absolute music, because the public in cities where the playing of the great orchestras and other masterpieces of church music has been tried out in the motion picture house, is hearing these things with a mildity, is showing them an appreciation that is not always accorded them in the churches.

One explanation is that the motion picture houses have organists of a musicalness, that of Mr. Sawtelle. In his inauguration of the organ he played the kind of music—a medley of old southern airs—that everybody likes, and variations on which exploited an astonishing number of the showiest and most unusual things that can be done with the instrument.

He has no simple task. The mechanical handling of the instrument, with its infinite number of stops, its technique of pedaling, is a study. He must then adapt the adaptation of the right music to make appropriate commentary on the screen drama as it progresses. His playing of the "Pomp and Circumstance March" of Elgar for the latter part of the picture will be awaited with additional interest in the light of the revelations Mr. Sawtelle made Monday.

Red Cross Worker Claims She Knows Alleged 'Wild Man'

Jackson, Miss., January 24.—Mississippi authorities who have been attempting to uncover the history of Albert Parsons, alleged "wild man," his wife and two-year-old baby girl, who strayed into the village of Lux last Friday with a strange story of life in the wilds along Leaf river, today received a statement from Miss Floyd Mabry, a Red Cross worker, who may clear the mystery.

Miss Mabry declared that the baby is the child of the couple and also asserts that both Parsons and his wife had reported to her weekly.

The couple on arriving at Lux said they had lived on roots, nuts and game in the river bottoms for some years. Parsons said he caught the woman in a bear trap twenty-three years ago. She explained the loss of an eye by saying it had been scratched out by a wildcat. He gave his age as 70 and she said she was 80 years of age.

The authorities are investigating Miss Mabry's statements and in the meantime the trio are being cared for at the county poor house at Ellisville.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment is a Brisk Purgative With Calomel, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that to medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablet called Calomel, which is free from the sickening, weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calomel on the tongue at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calomel only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be better refunded to you if you do not find them delightful.—(adv.)

SUFFERED SEVEN LONG YEARS

Finally Relieved by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ravenwood, W. Va.—"For seven long years I suffered from a female inflammation so that I was not able to do my household work. I consulted several doctors but none seemed to give me relief. I read in a paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it, and before the first bottle was gone I found great relief so I continued using it until I had taken eight bottles. Now I am very well and can do my own household work. I can hardly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine to suffering women."—Mrs. BERTHA LERKING, R. F. D., Ravenwood, W. Va.

The ordinary day of most housewives is a ceaseless treadmill of washing, cooking, cleaning, mending, sewing, darning and ironing. Little time, however, is left for the woman's own health, and the system becomes deranged, the blood is poisoned, and the result is headache, nervousness, and other ailments. Every woman should profit by Mrs. Pinkham's experience and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

WOMAN IS NAMED ON SCHOOL BOARD FOR SHORT TERM

Savannah, Ga., January 24.—(Special.)—Mrs. R. Willis Heard, wife of a well-known business man here, was today named by Mayor M. M. Stewart to a place on the board of education, the first political recognition of this kind for women in Savannah.

The board is self-perpetuating, except that the mayor and two of his appointees are named for definite terms as commissioners for Massie school, to serve as members of the general board. Mrs. Heard takes the place of Wright Hunter, who declined reappointment.

One explanation is that the motion picture houses have organists of a musicalness, that of Mr. Sawtelle. In his inauguration of the organ he played the kind of music—a medley of old southern airs—that everybody likes, and variations on which exploited an astonishing number of the showiest and most unusual things that can be done with the instrument.

THE CONSTITUTION ATLANTA, GA. TUESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1921. EDITED BY W. A. HUGGINS

Bears Fail in Effort
To Pound the Market

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, January 24.—(Special.)—Following their program of last week, professional traders, most of whom are bearish, started in this morning to pound the market, but, as was the case last week, the price movement was against them. Up to noon, when the ticker almost stopped, the market was very strong and very active, with the leaders Atlantic Gulf, Baldwin, Northern Pacific, Reading, American Can, Studebaker.

It is understood that insiders in American Can are having a thorough audit made for their own satisfaction, and that the results so far obtained far exceed expectations. Studebaker was heavily traded in on rumors that there was to be a merger of that company, Kelly-Springfield Tire and Dodge Bros.

There was no news today to confirm this report. However, there are good reasons for believing that within the very near future there will be important news dealing with automobile and automobile supply companies. Most of them are now trying to arrange loans. There may be some consolidations.

Explanation of Strength.

One explanation for the early strength shown by the stock market was the further gain made by the banks in their position, the reserve ratio of the twelve federal reserve institutions at the beginning of this week being at 48.5, compared with 48.1 a week ago and 44.7 at this time last year. That is the strongest position reported by these banks since September of 1919, and indicates plainly that progress is being continued in the process of deflation. Cleveland, for example, reports a reserve ratio of 66.9, against 64.2 a week ago and 51.1 a year ago. And this morning's dispatches reported that for the first time this year time money at that city had dropped to 7 per cent.

Philadelphia is now up to 61.3, against 57.2 a week ago and 40.1 a year ago; Boston shows 64.4, 62.9 and 49.4 respectively; Minneapolis and Dallas are still under 40, with Atlanta slightly above 41. Most of the other banks, however, show a remarkable recovery, compared with only a few weeks ago.

This, of course, reflects trade depression. And in view of that fact, much surprise was expressed at today's renewal rate of 7 per cent for call money. That rate, however, does not reflect real conditions. The banking interests of the country are not going to do anything to bring about resumption of speculation in any line, hence the high rates for call money. Moreover, bankers believe that the slack in the money market should be taken up by foreign loans, which will hold up our exports and thus help the general situation as a whole.

Loan is Oversubscribed.

Today nineteen banking institutions here, at Boston and Chicago, made a public offering of $30,000,000 20-year 8 per cent bond at 100. The books were opened at 10 o'clock and immediately closed with the bonds all sold. Other offerings of foreign bonds are to be made in the very near future, which means that Europe will be able to buy goods here on long term credits instead of for cash. That is really why foreign exchange is showing a sensational recovery. Being able to buy here on credit, foreigners will stop throwing their bills on the market.

Traction stocks and bonds were strong today. Before the opening it was reported in Wall street that Governor Miller would hand down his special traction message tonight.

Wall street expects the steel corporation to report tomorrow after the close of the stock market net earnings for the December quarter of $46,000,000, which would mean $4.17 earned for the common stock for the three months, or $12.7 a share for the year. Net of $45,000,000 would show a final surplus over all dividends for the year of $59,800,000. Practically all of the steel companies earned more than enough for the first three quarters of 1920 to pay dividends for the year. For the nine months the steel corporation earned $12.6 per cent for its common stock; Lackawanna, 13.4; Republic, 20.3; Bethlehem (estimated), 25; Midvale, 5.2.

The Carmanla arrived here today from England, with 163 small wooden boxes aboard containing $7,650,000 gold abroad. Kuhn, Loeb & Co. will get $4,300,000 of it.

Despite the raid made by the bears in the late trading, the turn-over in the stock market for the day was the smallest in a long time. Several hundred cotton mills in North and South Carolina are going to resume on whole or part time as a result of orders received since the turn of the year, according to dispatches from the south. Something like 90 per cent of the mills, which employed between 400,000 and 500,000, have been idle since Christmas.

Much interest was displayed here today in the annual report of Hart Schaffner & Marx for the fiscal year ended November 20, 1920, showing net profits, after taxes, of $2,013,000, or $11.8 for the common shares after payment of dividends on the preferred, against $2,200,000, or $13.1 for 1919, $1,491,000 for 1918 and $1,603,000 for 1917. The balance sheet indicates some striking changes.

Good Will, which stood at $15,000,000 at the close of 1919, was written down to $10,000,000; invoices at the close of last year were valued at $2,691,000, against $6,049,000 at the end of 1919 and $6,335,000 for 1917; accounts receivable were up to $11,175,000, compared with $5,260,000 for 1919 and $3,708,000 for 1917; the item of $700,000 Liberty bonds held at the close of 1919 has disappeared from assets; cash stood at $2,781,000, against $2,256,000 for 1919 and $1,320,000 for 1917; bills and accounts payable were $6,355,000, against $5,239,000 for 1919 and $3,882,000 for 1917; profit and loss stood at $1,952,000, against $4,085,000 for 1919 and $2,720,000 for 1917.

Mills Resuming Operation.

Conditions in the textile trade have changed twice since the close of November. First there was a complete shutdown of mills after drastic price cutting failed to bring out orders. Only recently the American Woolen company resumed operations. Now there is another price reduction by the company, running from 25 to 33.3 per cent. Men's spring serge suitings which were $4.50 in the fall of 1920, and were reduced to $3.67, are now $2.37, and guaranteed against further reductions. These prices together with the prices now being found in newspaper advertisements for men's clothes show that the textile people are going out into business.

According to Boston dispatches, Henry Ford is shopping about in that city to get terms for his proposed loan. It is understood that the loan may run over $50,000,000, carry 7 1/2 per cent interest and mature in 1936.

Buyers of Merchandise
Demanding Sane Prices

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, January 24.—Having cleared their minds of the idea laid in between the peak of the prices, last February, and the beginning of the slump last July, the buyers of the United States are now sending their buyers to the New York market for quantities of goods to contract for new stocks at sane prices. It was necessary for most of the buyers to write off their profits on great quantities of goods and in some cases to write off the entire investment, selling below cost in order to turn the stock into cash. Therefore, the buyers who now fill such orders as the McAlpin and the Pennsylvania are under instructions to take their time, inspect many stocks and buy cautiously.

H. M. Wright, manager of the Bureau of Education of the Textile Terminal Sales company, representing 1,000 manufacturers, was amazed a year ago when prices were up like the crest of a deadfall sea, to observe buyers giving contracts for great quantities of merchandise seemingly without any regard to the condition of the market that was to come. A buyer's only equipment then seemed to be a blank check, and a fountain pen with which to sign orders. They have brought their minds back to the present, and their orders are distributed only after the prices have been compared with the prices of the goods thoroughly inspected.

Silk Underwear Era. Not to blame the buyers, however, for what was done last year, conditions had gone beyond the silk-shirt period and were in the stage of the impending craze—the silk-underwear era. The test of merchandise was not "How good" but "How expensive" and buyers came to New York to lay in stocks for that sort of a market.

Throughout the fall and the early winter, 1920, buyers have been easing the stock against their owners, taking their losses after the example of manufacturers and jobbers who found themselves in a corresponding predicament. And now the buyers are less, prices have been adjusted and the markets are returning to normalcy.
